Arkansas Press Ass'n. Meets at Fayetteville; 2 Join Star Staff

Seven from The Star will leave for Fayetteville at 6 a.m. Friday to attend the Summer convention of the Arkansas Press Association at Fayetteville Friday and Saturday.

The early departure is due to the fact that the opening program is the Friday noon luncheon, and Fayetteville is no easy place to drive to, being almost as distant from Hope as Houston is.

Making the trip will be your editor; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dan Jones and son Russell; and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. (Pod) Rogers, Jr., and son Bradford.

Paul H. Jones, general manager and managing editor of The Star, will return to his desk June 15 following recovery from a heart attack.

The doctors advise Paul he will be as good as new—and from every department it will be a most welcome sight when the former recorder of the Town of Oakhaven walks in the front door.

The Star has two summertime journalists from the University of Arkansas this year. Starting on the newspaper this week are:

Miss Connie Hendrix, sophomore who is working in the advertising department. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hendrix.

And Justin Caldwell, also a sophomore, who spent the Summer of 1970 in the editorial department is here his second Summer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Caldwell.

Belgium Cancels U.S. Air Permit

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Belgium is withdrawing from an agreement that permits U.S. airlines to land in Brussels and Belgian planes to land in New York, the Ministry of Communication announced today.

It said the decision does not become effective until 1972, probably in November, apparently to permit it further negotiations.

The move was made because the United States had refused to grant the Belgian airline Sabena the right to fly between Brussels and Chicago in addition to its New York route.

Belgium is one of the few European countries with only one U.S. territory landing right. It has little to offer in exchange for a second landing right, such as Chicago, as asked for by the Belgian airline.

Alternative cities were offered by the U.S. government but failed to interest the Belgian authorities because of lack of potential traffic.

Sabena is government controlled and the government makes up any deficit.

Warm Weather Continues

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Warm weather is expected to continue in Arkansas for the next few days.

Highs Wednesday ranged from the low to mid 80s in the northwest portion of the state to 90 at Texarkana.

Highs today and Friday were recast in the mid 80s to low 90s throughout the state. Lows night should be in the 60s to 70s.

Some thundershowers may develop over the northwest portion of the state this afternoon, but little or no precipitation is expected elsewhere in Arkansas. A few scattered thundershowers developed Wednesday mainly over the southern portions of the state. Murfreesboro, located in Southwest Arkansas, reported more than 1½ inches of rain.

Mail reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. indicate a trace at Pine Bluff and at Fayetteville.

Reagan's Cut in Welfare Is Blocked

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)

Gov. Ronald Reagan's welfare reform program, which he offered in March as a model for the nation, has been killed by state Senate Democrats who then approved a rival plan.

The defeat in committee Wednesday was a bitter one for the Republican chief executive who has seen major parts of the plan adopted in New York State and considered in other state legislatures.

Reagan had counted on savings from the program, a most recent estimate of $157 million, to balance his $6.74 billion budget.

But the death of the bills, plus a newly discovered $203 million deficit, make it virtually certain that Reagan will have to accept a tax increase this year.

The substitute measure, sponsored by Chairman Anthony C. Beilenson of the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, contains many of the reforms that were in the Reagan plan. But the governor called newsmen to his office and denounced it as a "blatant attempt to force a gigantic tax increase on the people."

"It is nothing but a big bundle of band-aids that isn't going to reform anything," said Reagan who claimed it would cost the state an added $993 million in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Beilenson, a Beverly Hills Democrat, known best as the author of the 1967 legislation liberalizing California's abortion law, said of Reagan: "I frankly don't think he knows what he's talking about. I don't understand the governor's attitude. If he doesn't change it, we're not going to get reform." He said his plan would save $9 million.

About 2.5 million Californians are on welfare and the program cost about $2.3 billion in the current year ending June 30. Unchecked, it will rise to nearly $3 billion next year, Reagan claimed.

The Beilenson plan, a 17-point proposal designed to improve public assistance by raising grants and creating jobs, incorporated about two-thirds of Reagan's welfare reform language. But a fundamental difference lies in the ways the programs approach budgeting for welfare.

Hal Boyle Offers Some Suggestions for a More Exciting (?) Vacation

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Going to the mountains for your vacation? Going to a lake or seashore? Taking a long motor trip? Visiting relatives who would just as soon you went to the moon instead?

How dull and uninspired so many of our vacations are! They offer us no real relief from the monotony of our daily lives, but serve only as an extended coffee break. Yet all around us life and adventure—real life, real adventure—cry out to be seen, felt and used, to stir and mind and gladden the body.

Why not do something this year on your vacation beside pose for a post card with an oversized stuffed fish? Like what? Well, like almost anything—just so it's different.

For example, you might—
Splurge by buying you and your wife a two weeks' supply of tickets on a merry-go-round or Ferris wheel.

Get a moonlighting job as inspector in a zipper factory.

Volunteer to serve as head librarian in a sultan's harem.

See how many old movies you can watch on television without going to the refrigerator for a can of beer.

Alleged Cop Killer Marries Witness and Walks Out Free Man

MAYS LANDING, N.J. (AP)

A young man who married a key prosecution witness in his jail cell has been found innocent in the shotgun murder of an Atlantic City policeman.

The acquittal Wednesday of Craig Jackson, 22, came after Atlantic County Court Judge Benjamin A. Rimm ruled the state had failed to connect the defendant with the killing of Patrolman John Burke, who was gunned down outside a night club last Sept. 30.

Mario F. Floriani, Atlantic City's public safety director, termed the verdict ridiculous. He said that because courts permitted Jackson's marriage to the potential witness, the former Pearlline Robinson, her testimony could not be used.

Floriani said Mrs. Jackson, in a statement to police prior to her marriage, quoted Jackson as saying: "We're going to get caught. We just killed a cop."

She and Jackson had been friends prior to the shooting. Floriani also criticized two local clergymen, the Rev. Vicent DiPasquale, a Roman Catholic priest, and the Rev. Bradley Sheeks, a Presbyterian minister, who he said arranged the marriage.

The prosecution had called about 15 witnesses in the six-day trial. None of them provided positive identification of Jackson as one of the two men seen in the night club just before Burke was killed.

Red Freighter Weather Attached in Fishing Fight

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — A Soviet freighter has been seized at this San Francisco Bay port by federal marshals as security for a $377,000 damage suit filed by New England fishermen who claim Russian trawlers destroyed their lobster fishing gear.

Deputy U.S. Marshal Clifford H. Cline and three other marshals boarded the Suleyman Stalskiy late Wednesday, an hour after the 53-foot vessel tied up to load lumber and other cargo for Japan. Cline taped a notice of attachment to the ship's wheel and posted a man on board.

The suit was filed by the Prelude Corp. of Westport Point, Mass. It claims Russian trawlers "with either malicious contempt or reckless disregard" of American fishermen's rights have hauled their nets through gear of three Prelude vessels, destroying or seizing lines and lobster pots.

The suit names as defendants individuals and firms who own the Russian fishing fleet, but Cline said, "The Russian government owns all Russian ships so we are seizing this one."

Maritime law permits any of a shipowner's vessels to be held as security for a damage claim.

Edward Ransom and Graydon Starling, lawyers for the lobster firm, said the suit was filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco because the Suleyman Stalskiy apparently was the only Soviet ship in an American port without international immunity.

Capt. Anatoly Rogachev, 41, of Vladivostok, heard Cline's explanation of the seizure in his cabin, then poured a round of vodka for a half dozen reporters who followed the marshals aboard.

"I'm very glad to see you," said the captain, who speaks some English. "Sit down, please," he said, then displayed a photograph of his wife, son and daughter.

Black Solons Try to Block Africa Sugar

Promptly after the Rules Committee voted Wednesday against letting the House amend the U.S. sugar market-sharing package assembled by the Agriculture Committee, the 13-member Negro bloc urged colleagues to oppose the continuation of a 60,000-ton annual quota for South Africa.

Three more years of distributing that multimillion-dollar share of the U.S. market to "rich but racist South Africa" will only serve to further alienate black Americans and black Africans," the caucus wrote in an open letter to fellow congressmen.

There was broad Agriculture Committee support for the South Africa quota, approved as part of the over-all measure. Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., and ranking minority member Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., argued successfully for having the bill dispatched to the floor under a closed rule permitting no amendments.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the CAB, said that cancellation of Lockheed's L1011 TriStar jumbo jet airbus project would have "severe impact" on airlines that have made more than $200 million in advance payments for planes.

John H. Shaffer, head of the FAA, said the Lockheed plane appears to be "a superb aircraft and will be a vital addition to the commercial aircraft fleet."

The administration has proposed to guarantee up to $250 million in bank loans to finance Lockheed in the continued development of the commercial project and to save the corporation from imminent bankruptcy.

Shaffer told the Senate Banking Committee that air passenger travel is projected to increase by more than three times in the next decade and that new wide-bodied subsonic aircraft of the TriStar type will be needed to meet passenger demand and alleviate airport congestion.

Brown said TWA, Delta and Eastern have firm orders to purchase 94 of the TriStars and options on 24 more.

Browne said the three airlines prefer that the plane be developed with a Rolls-Royce engine despite its higher costs resulting from the bankruptcy of the British firm. He said they want the Lockheed TriStar despite delays in delivery and the increase in cost.

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard told the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday a government guarantee of up to $250 million in bank loans to Lockheed to finance production of its new TriStar jumbo jet would be "justified under the circumstances."

Without the guarantee, he said, Lockheed faces bankruptcy and the nation will be saddled with substantial additional unemployment in an industry already hard hit by defense procurement cutbacks.

The loan guarantee, he said, involves "little risk to the government," and should be regarded as "a specific single case."

"That simply has to be our attitude and that of the Congress," he said.

Packard said he would oppose the Lockheed loan guarantee if he considered it to be a precedent.

Points Python at Taylor

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Maurice Britz was fined $25 for pointing a python at a tailor.

Britz, 22, told the police court that he left his jacket with the tailor to have six Hell's Angels badges sewed on it. When he picked up the jacket, a Blue Max badge was missing.

The tailor said he knew nothing about the Blue Max, so Britz got Freddie, his 9-foot pet python, waved the nonpoisonous snake in the tailor's face, saying, "Freddie will find out the truth."

The tailor called the police, and they charged Britz with assault.

Air Agencies Endorse Aid to Lockheed

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration and the Civil Aeronautics Board joined today in support of a government loan guarantee for Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the CAB, said that cancellation of Lockheed's L1011 TriStar jumbo jet airbus project would have "severe impact" on airlines that have made more than $200 million in advance payments for planes.

John H. Shaffer, head of the FAA, said the Lockheed plane appears to be "a superb aircraft and will be a vital addition to the commercial aircraft fleet."

The administration has proposed to guarantee up to $250 million in bank loans to finance Lockheed in the continued development of the commercial project and to save the corporation from imminent bankruptcy.

Shaffer told the Senate Banking Committee that air passenger travel is projected to increase by more than three times in the next decade and that new wide-bodied subsonic aircraft of the TriStar type will be needed to meet passenger demand and alleviate airport congestion.

Brown said TWA, Delta and Eastern have firm orders to purchase 94 of the TriStars and options on 24 more.

Browne said the three airlines prefer that the plane be developed with a Rolls-Royce engine despite its higher costs resulting from the bankruptcy of the British firm. He said they want the Lockheed TriStar despite delays in delivery and the increase in cost.

Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard told the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday a government guarantee of up to $250 million in bank loans to Lockheed to finance production of its new TriStar jumbo jet would be "justified under the circumstances."

Without the guarantee, he said, Lockheed faces bankruptcy and the nation will be saddled with substantial additional unemployment in an industry already hard hit by defense procurement cutbacks.

The loan guarantee, he said, involves "little risk to the government," and should be regarded as "a specific single case."

"That simply has to be our attitude and that of the Congress," he said.

Packard said he would oppose the Lockheed loan guarantee if he considered it to be a precedent.

Last-Minute Court Order Bars Release

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — After 14 years on death row, Edgar H. Smith was within an hour of being released on bail when an appeals court overruled the decision that he be freed pending a new trial.

Smith arrived in federal court for the 1 p.m. Wednesday deadline set by a U.S. District Court judge for Smith to be released on $5,000 bail. The judge gave the Bergen County prosecutor 24 hours to appeal the bail ruling made Tuesday.

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia sent an urgent notice about noon vacating the bail order. Smith left the courtroom with a solemn gaze and was taken to the Federal House of Detention in New York City. His attorney said Smith eventually would be returned to Trenton State Prison, where he has lived on death row since 1957.

Smith, who was convicted of murdering Victoria Zlinski, 15, of Ramsey, won a new trial May 13 on the ground he was "trapped into an incriminating admission."

His attorney, Stephen Umin, sought bail on grounds that Smith, 37, has totally rehabilitated himself. He has written two published books, one an account of his attempts to clear himself and the other a novel.

Asst. Bergen County Prosecutor Edward Fitzpatrick, arguing against bail, said there still is evidence that Smith committed murder.

The appeals court order gave the state until July 12 to argue an appeal aimed at setting aside the ruling ordering the new trial.

Conservative columnist William F. Buckley, who helped Smith find publishers, had volunteered to take responsibility for Smith's behavior during the period of bail.

Tennessee to Have Primary

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. Henry Jackson says the newly enacted law establishing a presidential primary in Tennessee on the first Thursday of May will provide the first test of voter sentiment in "the crucial border states."

"As a former national Democratic chairman, I know the importance these states have on the outcome of elections," the Washington Democrat said Wednesday at a meeting of the Tennessee Bar Association.

Jackson also noted that the Tennessee primary will precede those in Oregon, West Virginia and California, three states whose primaries traditionally play key roles in early maneuvering for presidential nominations.

He praised the Tennessee law for binding delegates to the primary winner on the first two ballots at a national convention and requiring that a declared candidate be on the ballot unless he submits a written request to have his name withdrawn.

Jackson said he will decide this fall whether to become a candidate himself. If he does, he said, "I would not ignore the possibility of making an active campaign in Tennessee."

19 Die in Combat Last Week

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 19 Americans died in combat in the Vietnam war last week. It was the lowest weekly toll in more than 5 1/2 years.

The command said another 19 American servicemen died from such nonhostile causes as accidents or illness, and 261 Americans were wounded in action, 32 more than the week before.

The battlefield death toll was the lowest since Oct. 17-23, 1965, when 14 Americans were reported killed.

The U.S. casualty report last Thursday listed 48 Americans killed, 229 wounded and 16 dead from nonhostile causes during the week of May 23-29. But more than half of the dead were killed in a rocket attack the week before.

The count last week reflected both a generally low level of fighting involving the 250,000 American troops still in Vietnam and their decreasing combat role.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a slight decrease in casualties last week among government forces, with 419 killed and 908 wounded, compared with 452 killed and 1,171 wounded a week earlier.

Many of last week's casualties were believed suffered in the retreat from Snuol, in eastern Cambodia.

There was almost no change in the weekly claim of enemy casualties. The two allied command said 1,875 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week, three less than the total claimed the week before.

The weekly summaries raised the total casualties reported in the war to 45,250 Americans killed in combat, 299,924 wounded and 9,583 dead from nonhostile causes; 128,438 South Vietnamese troops killed and 278,695 wounded, and 750,088 enemy killed.

Battlefields were generally quiet across Indochina Wednesday night and today. U.S. forces were involved in so little action that the U.S. Command did not issue a morning battlefield communique for the third successive day.

The U.S. Embassy announced that Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker is returning to Washington Sunday for consultations on the possibility of speeding up the withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

The embassy said Bunker would be gone for 10 days. Other informants said the rate of troop withdrawals and the South Vietnamese presidential election Oct. 3 would be major topics discussed.

North Little Rock school boards submitted new plans for school desegregation earlier this week. Each hearing is expected to last two or three days.

Organized Crime Still Profiting

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Armed convoys of postal guards have all but eliminated massive security thefts at U.S. airports but organized crime still profits enormously from steal-to-order thieves on Wall Street, the Senate rackets committee has been told.

J. W. Cotter, chief U.S. postal inspector, testified Wednesday claims for stolen securities, jewels, travelers checks and other valuables had reached $76 million before hundreds of arrests and tightened security nearly ended the theft of registered mail pouches.

Murray J. Gross, an assistant district attorney for Manhattan said earlier only the abolishment of stock certificates themselves could end a free-for-all of crime on Wall Street.

"Everybody is stealing," Gross said. "The brokerage house messengers, the clerks, even the supervisory personnel."

"This thing mushroomed very quickly," Gross said. It's a new kind of crime. Everybody was slow to respond."

Now, Gross said, it may be too late.

He said some banks and minor stock houses are believed infiltrated by organized criminal elements may be pipelines for stolen stocks and bonds.

And, he added, some stock brokerage firms may have been created by a crime syndicate solely to carry out corrupt schemes.

There are strong indications as well, he went on, that counterfeiters are moving in on the action.

Organized crime, Gross said, came to the New York financial district with its traditional "bag of tricks: extortion, robbery, intimidation, counterfeiting, embezzlement, simple theft and even arson."

"They were more than able to breach the flimsy fortress of Wall Street security."

Now, he said, organized crime is faced with stiff competition from amateurs in the actual thefts.

But organized crime has a virtual monopoly on the disposition of the stolen securities, Gross said.

Tightened security alone will

Thursday, June 10, 1971

not stop security thefts, Gross asserted.

The necessary alternative, he said, "is to abandon the pieces of paper—the stock certificates and bonds—and to replace the system with a computerized scheme of debits and credits."

13 Bodies Found in Mexico

ESCALON, Mexico (AP) — The bodies of 12 men and a woman found in a vacant lot next to a move house here apparently are the bodies of Yaqui Indians killed during the Mexican revolutionary war.

El Heraldo, a major newspaper in Chihuahua City, said today that its own reporters, sent to Escalon, confirmed that the bodies were old. Police in Escalon indicated to El Heraldo that the bodies were buried in the early 1900s.

All 13 of the dead had been shot in the head.

The newspaper said the bodies were found near an old Yaqui Indian fort. The Indians customarily fought from small openings in the fort only large enough for their heads to be exposed.

First reports had indicated the bodies might have been recently buried.

Escalon is a small community about 400 miles south of Juarez, a border city across from El Paso, Tex.

The newspaper El Sold said the bodies were found on land belonging to Escalon Mayor Raimundo Palacios' brother Ricardo.

Jury Is Still Not Selected

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — A jury panel still had been selected as the first-degree murder trial of four DeWitt youths entered its fourth day in Circuit Court here today.

Lamar Mannis, 17, Teddy Kitter, 16, Benny West, 16, and Joe Kagebien, 15, are charged with the shotgun slaying of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, 27, a Wynne rice farmer. Wampler was slain in November of last year.

The trial began Monday and more than 200 prospective jurors have been questioned. Ten jurors had been selected when court recessed Wednesday.

Judge Joe Rhodes said that if the panel was not completed today he might keep court in session tonight until a jury is seated to hear the case. Rhodes said he wanted the jury selection completed so testimony could begin next week.

The trial is expected to last two weeks.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The idea behind the Federal Communications Commission's order that the networks give up one-half hour of prime viewing time each evening in major marketing areas starting next season was to stimulate local programming and production.

It has caused considerable production and even more sales activity.

Recent surveys of stations affiliated with the three networks indicate that, three months away from the start of the new season, about a third of the stations in the 50 larger communities have not definitely set replacement show—or, if they have, they aren't telling.

Some stations will expand local news programs into prime time, which officially starts at 7:30 p.m. Others are expected to plug the hole with reruns.

The regulation has stimulated great activity among independent producers, hitherto pretty dependent on network sales. And some entertainers—Tommy Smothers, Lassie and Lawrence Welk among them—suddenly are interested in what was once a TV stepchild—syndication. That is a program sold to individual stations rather than to a network.

David Frost who already has a popular nightly talk show, will have a weekly half-hour "David Frost Revue." Tommy Smothers will produce and host a half-hour variety series. Lawrence Welk's company claims it has already lined up more than 150 stations for his syndicated series.

NBC's plan to fill local prime time of the five stations it operates includes reruns of the National Geographic series; "Wild Kingdom," an NBC perennial now in syndication and "Lassie," canceled by CBS at the end of this season. They also have picked up some action series: "Primus," underwater adventure, and two private-eye series, "Monty Nash" and "Dr. Simon Locke." NBC has outlets in New York, Washington, Chicago, Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Franks and Betsy went to the U of A graduation Saturday in Fayetteville, where Peggy Nell Franks received her degree cum laude.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones have returned from Farmington, N. M., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Saunders and daughter. They went to points in the Colorado mountains that included salmon fishing at Navajo Lake. They also had dinner with John Wayne and the company on location for the filming of "The Cowboys" at Pagosa Springs, Colo.

First Girls All-Star Game Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Who could look at a girl and worry more about defense, shooting and rebounding than hairstyles and makeup?

Only a girls basketball coach. Not only do the coaches of the Girls All-Star basketball teams worry about the finer points of the game, they say the same things as their counterparts in the boys' ranks.

"We have a little size advantage on the north, but they are well-balanced and the game will be close," says Bill Faulkner of Joe T. Robinson, coach of the south team.

"The south has a little advantage in height, but they have some quick, fast, little girls," said Mrs. Alene Crabtree of Alma, coach of the north team. "The people should see some real good basketball."

The Girls All-Star game, a first in the state, will be played Friday night at Barton Coliseum in Little Rock. A resurgence of interest in girls basketball in Arkansas prompted the inauguration of the game.

The 18 girls named to each team have spent the week practicing at Arkadelphia. The game has been divided into five eight-minute periods and each of the three units will play one period apiece. There will be unlimited substitution during the final two periods.

Faulkner says the team with the best defensive forwards will win.

Until recently in girls basketball, the ball was brought to midcourt after a field goal by an official which meant the three forwards played only of defense and the three guards were restricted to defense. Under a recent rule change, the guards on the team that is scored upon must work the ball to the center line where they relay it to their teammates at forward. This means the forwards now play defense while the guards are attempting to move the ball up the court.

Mrs. Crabtree says the change is one of the best in her 31 years of coaching.

"The game has changed a lot during that time," Mrs. Crabtree said. "We used to have only one dribble and we could stay in the lane as long as we wanted. The game now is so much faster and more enjoyable."

Although the number of high schools fielding girls teams has increased rapidly in the past five years, it has not spread to the larger schools. Alma is one of the few Class AA schools with a girls team.

"The larger schools have the idea that it's a little strenuous for the girls," Mrs. Crabtree said. "I just don't think that's true. This all-star game is going to do a lot for the game. It will increase the fans' interest and get more coaches interested in having a girls team."

Court Favors Baseball

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Organized baseball has won a skirmish in its battle against a New York City woman who wants to become the first female umpire.

The Court of Appeals, New York's highest court, granted the New York-Penn League, a class A minor league circuit, and the National Association of Baseball Leagues a temporary stay against rule changes, ordered by the State Human Rights Commission, pending final determination of an appeal.

The Rights Commission had ordered the New York-Penn League to change physical and other requirements for umpires. The regulations, according to the commission, discriminated against women.

The case was brought by Mrs. Bernice Gera of Jackson Heights, Queens. Mrs. Gera has been trying for several years to become an umpire.

The appeal is scheduled to be heard entirely in September.

San Francisco Defeated 4-0 by Montreal

By HERSCHEL NISSENON
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Fun in '71" is manager Charlie Fox's slogan for the San Francisco Giants but he's having trouble dispelling the "June swoon" label.

The Giants managed only one hit—Dick Dietz' second-inning bouncing single up the middle—off Montreal's Steve Renko Wednesday night and went down to a 4-0 defeat, their seventh in eight games this month.

In little more than a week, their lead over Los Angeles in the National League West has been trimmed from 10½ to seven games.

Asked if the Giants were psyched by the "June swoon" tag, Fox snapped:

"I'm no (censored) psychologist. Did you guys ever consider that your man just threw a one-hitter out there? Don't you guys want to give him any credit? That's all I'm going to tell you."

Elsewhere, Philadelphia trounced Los Angeles 9-4, the New York Mets rallied to beat San Diego 4-2, Atlanta whipped St. Louis 8-3, the Chicago Cubs shaded Pittsburgh 3-1 and Cincinnati edged Houston 2-1.

American League scores: Baltimore 2, Minnesota 1 in 10 innings; Oakland 6, Boston 1; Detroit 3, Milwaukee 0; Kansas City 5, Washington 4; Cleveland 3, Chicago White Sox 1 and California 4, New York 3.

The Expos didn't get a hit off Gaylord Perry until Bob Bailey beat out a bunt to open the fifth. With two out, Renko doubled him home. Ron Hunt's double, Rusty Staub's single and an infield out made it 2-0 in the sixth and the Expos kayoed Perry in the seventh, scoring their final two runs on Staub's double.

The Dodgers, however, failed to gain on the Giants when home runs by Deron Johnson, Byron Browne and Don Money helped Philadelphia's Ken Reynolds to his first major league victory, although he needed eighth-inning help from Woodie Fryman.

Johnson's three-run blast capped a four-run outburst against Claude Osteen in the first inning and Browne hit a two-run shot in the third. Money belted a solo homer in the seventh. Steve Garvey homered for the Dodgers.

The Mets, frustrated by Tom Phoebus for seven innings despite numerous scoring chances, finally erupted against San Diego reliever Al Severinsen in the eighth, wiping out a 2-0 deficit, including Nate Colbert's 12th homer off Tom Seaver.

Jerry Grote's single and triples by Don Hahn and Bud Harrelson tied the score and Ken Singleton's pinch single put the Mets in front. The final run scored on a bases-loaded walk. The victory enabled the Mets to move back into first place in the NL East, 12 percentage points ahead of St. Louis. The Cards fell before a six-run Atlanta uprising in the fifth inning, featuring a two-run single by Zoilo Versalles and Hank Aaron's game-tying double.

St. Louis reliever Frank Linzy and first baseman Frank Brubaker collided at full speed going after a ground ball in the sixth and both were taken to a hospital, where they were treated and released.

Ferguson Jenkins posted his 10th victory as the Cubs of Norte Dame, by Minnesota, and Charlie Duceich of Georgia Tech, by San Diego.

Pitchers remained the top priority commodity in both secondary phases with 29 among the first 47 picks. In all, 942 players were taken, 801 in the regular phase covering high school seniors and 141 in the secondary phase.

Kansas City 5-4 Over Washington

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chuck Harrison is your average-size sandblaster, 5-foot-10 and 212 pounds of living, breathing dynamite.

His biceps have bulges, his bat has bounce...and his opponents have bruises.

Harrison, who destroyed two minor league teams single-handedly Sunday and Monday when he recall to the majors, came through with another knockout punch as Kansas City's red-hot Royals beat faltering Washington 5-4 Wednesday night.

"I was just looking for the ball," said Harrison, who found it and slugged it for a bases-loaded single to score two runs with two out in the ninth inning.

The brutish first baseman turned up for the haymaker with a two-game demolition job with Omaha in the American Association. He tore into minor league pitching for five home runs and 15 runs batted in to pace a 17-15 triumph over Denver Sunday and an 8-4 success over Wichita Monday night.

The victory was the Royals' eighth in nine games while the Senators dropped their sixth straight and 27th in 34.

Cleveland topped Chicago 3-1; Baltimore nipped Minnesota 2-1 in 10 innings; Detroit trimmed Milwaukee 3-0; Oakland smacked Boston 6-1 and California spilled New York 4-3 in the other American League games Wednesday night.

In the National League, it was Chicago 3, Pittsburgh 1; Philadelphia 9, Los Angeles 4; Montreal 4, San Francisco 0; Atlanta 8, St. Louis 3; New York 4, San Diego 2 and Cincinnati 2, Houston 1.

The 30-year-old Harrison, a baseball vagabond who played several years with the Houston Astros' organization before moving to Kansas City, played first base in the Royals' first year of existence in 1969. But he didn't figure in their plans this year and, in fact, wasn't even invited to spring training.

The Royals, however, couldn't resist another look after his performance in the Double-A league this year—14 homers, 46 RBIs, a .369 batting average and 125 total bases, all first in the American Association.

Despite his fence-wrecking activities in the minors, Harrison claims "I don't try to go anywhere with the ball."

Harrison wasn't sure what kind of a pitch he hit off Washington reliever Paul Lindblad for the game-winning Wednesday night "because when I'm really concentrating on the ball, I never know what the pitcher throws."

Lindblad, who took over in the seventh, struck out Freddie Patek to open the ninth. But the Royals then loaded the bases on a walk to Paul Schaal, Amos Otis' double and an intentional pass to Lou Piniella. Lindblad struck out Cookie Rojas before Harrison uncorked a drive over the head of left fielder Dick Billings.

Graig Nettles touched off Cleveland's two scoring thrusts with a double and a single as the Indians whipped the White Sox.

Nettles doubled and scored on Eddie Leon's single in the first inning to give Cleveland a 1-0 lead, then started a two-run rally in the sixth with his third hit of the game. Alan Foster blanned Chicago until the ninth, when the White Sox scored their run, before needing last-out relief help from debuting Ed Farmer.

Frank Robinson doubled home Don Buford from first base with two out in the 10th inning as Baltimore won its seventh straight.

Buford opened the inning with a single off Jim Kaat and, after Brooks Robinson flied out, Frank Robinson rifled a deep drive to right field over Tony Oliva's head.

Norm Cash lashed a three-run homer in the first inning and Les Cain scattered four hits as Detroit handed Milwaukee its sixth straight loss.

Cash's homer, his 12th, came off Lew Krausse after Al Kaline singled and Willie Horton was hit by a pitch. All four Brewer hits were singles, with two coming in the fifth, as Cain hurled his first complete game in five starts.

Chuck Dobson, who started the season with a sore arm, pitched a five-hitter and doubled home the first Oakland run as the A's turned back Boston.

Sal Bando and Dick Green each hit his ninth home run in support of Dobson's strong pitching. Dobson, who was sent to the Mayo Clinic in April for his arm, had a no-hitter until Billy Conigliaro's homer broke the spell in the fifth.

Tony Gonzalez singled home Ken Berry with the winning run with two out in the last of the ninth for California.

Chamberlain Builds Tall Man's Dream House in Bel-Air

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain is having a $1 million house built for himself with dimensions befitting a man 7 feet, 1½ inches tall.

Take the bedroom, for instance. It's 1,000 square feet in size. The ceiling is 14 feet high. The bed is 8 feet wide, 9 feet long and reposes on a raised 13-by-25-foot platform.

It's like using Madison Square Garden for a snooze. But it's only part of the dream house the Los Angeles Lakers center is having built on a three-acre hillside lot in the exclusive Bel-Air section. Nearing completion, it overlooks Santa Monica and downtown Los Angeles on one side and the San Fernando Valley on the other.

Designing it posed a unique headache for architect David Rich and interior decorator "Corky" Korkowski, who admits the challenge was "monumental."

The problem: how do you design and furnish a home for so massive a man—a home in which he won't feel cramped but one in which his smaller friends and domestic help won't feel dwarfed?

To start with, guests visiting Chamberlain will find one feature in that house that helps reconcile their disparate sizes—the main floor is divided into seven levels, each separated by a small step or two or three or four.

And the living room, billiard room, the kitchen and dining rooms, the sauna and the bathrooms, the four-bedroom guest suite and two-bedroom servants' quarters all will be average-sized.

"That's the public part of the house," Rich says. "Wilt does not want his guests to feel lost here, like they're in a big cave. There's no place on the first floor where three people can't feel at home in a quiet conversation."

But by all standards the house is enormous—nearly 10,000 feet square in size, with ington reliever Paul Lindblad for the game-winning Wednesday night "because when I'm really concentrating on the ball, I never know what the pitcher throws."

A. Palmer Is Back in Action

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Arnie's ready.

"If I can do that just four more times, I'll be real, real happy," Arnold Palmer said today before teeing off in the first round of the $150,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, back in action after a three-week layoff, was talking about his pro-am round, a three-under-par 69 on the long, 7,278-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course.

"I hit 18 straight greens, one-putted three of them and two-putted the rest," said Palmer, winner of two events this year and more than $106,000.

"I didn't have any three-putts," he continued, "and that's a very, very good accomplishment for me."

But the 41-year-old superstar, the game's all-time leading money winner and its greatest gate attraction, really wanted to talk about a practice round he had played the day before.

"I was down at Hilton Head," he said. "Had some business and took the family down."

"I played Harbour Town," (one of the toughest courses on the tour and the site of the annual Heritage Classic). "I parred the first hole, then one-putted for a bogey six on the second."

"Then I had five threes in a row," he said, with a coy little grin.

"That put me out in 34. And I came home in, oh, let me see," he grinned, pretending he couldn't recall, "came home in 31. A little 64."

"Actually, I'm playing pretty well," Palmer said. "I just hope I can keep it up for a week. Or two weeks. That would make me very happy indeed."

Palmer, one of the favorites for the $30,000 first prize here, is having his best year in three seasons. But the muscular guy from Latrobe, Pa. had his troubles his last time out, almost a month ago when he finished 48th in the Houston Champions Invitational.

Palmer, playing a much heavier schedule than usual despite his long rest, ranked as a co-favorite with South African Gary Player and Lee Trevino, each a two-time champion and winner of more than $100,000 this season, tied just one stroke back of Jack Nicklaus and playoff

Montreal May Have New Coach

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens, who lost a 4-1 game Wednesday and expected to gain a high-ranking youngster today, may have a new coach before today's National Hockey League activity ends.

The Canadiens, who called a press conference Wednesday to announce the retirement of 18-year-old Jean Beliveau, scheduled another one for today, reportedly to announce the replacement of Al MacNeil, who coached the team to the Stanley Cup championship in his rookie year.

MacNeil, who took over as coach from Claude Ruel early in the season, was the target of criticism by fans and players. He was fired in the playoffs when center Henri Richard called MacNeil "incompetent."

"The worst coach I ever had," said Beliveau.

But when Montreal beat Chicago 4-1 for the title—with Richard scoring the winning goal in the decisive seventh game—he said the outburst had come in the heat of battle and that he hoped MacNeil would remain as coach.

And there were reports that the Canadiens' coaching job will go to Scotty Bowman, former coach and general manager of the St. Louis Blues. The Canadiens have refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The Canadiens, with three wins, including the No. 1 selection in the first round of today's amateur draft, were expected to lead off by taking Lefleur, who had 130 goals and 79 assists last season for Quebec Ramparts of the Quebec Hockey League.

But if he makes it with Montreal, he'll have a long way to go to match the magnificent Beliveau, who recorded 507 goals and 712 assists for 1,219 points in 1,125 regular-season games.

The 39-year-old, 6-foot-3 center and captain was instrumental in the Canadiens' 10 Stanley Cup titles and 10 first-place finishes during his career. Beliveau won the NHL scoring title in 1966, the Hart Trophy as the league's Most Valuable Player in 1966 and 1964 and the initial Conn Smythe Trophy as the MVP in the 1965 playoffs.

The Canadiens picked up the coveted No. 1 selection in today's draft when they traded Dennis Hextall to the California Golden Seals last year.

In other activity Wednesday, the NHL lost 31 players to the minor leagues in the reverse draft, accepted five names to the Hall of Fame and gave the referee additional power in potential brawl situations.

The American Hockey League and Western Hockey League clubs paid $15,000 apiece for the drafted players with the list including goalies Wayne Rutledge, Jack Norris and Chris Worthy, forward Ray Cullen and defenseman Howie Young.

The four players accepted by the Hall of Fame Selection Committee were the late Terry Sawchuk, a goalie with Detroit, Boston, Toronto, Los Angeles and New York, the late Harvey Busher Jackson, a forward with Toronto, Ralph Weiland, formerly with Boston, Detroit and the old Ottawa Senators, and the late Dr. Gordon Roberts, also with the Senators.

Among the rule changes approved by the NHL Board of Governors is one enabling a referee to neutralize teams when fights break out.

WOMEN'S LIB STRIKES

The ladies have liberated the bowling alleys, at least. The Women's International Bowling Congress membership recently reached the three million mark for the first time in history. The three-millionth member was 17-year-old Kimberly Hile of Blue Earth, Minn.

FAMOUS FOOTBALLERS

The late Vince Lombardi, Jim Brown, Norm Van Brocklin, Y. A. Tittle, Andy Robustelli, Bruiser Kinard and the late Bill Hewitt will all be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame July 31.

Mrs. Spradling to Appear in Arts Show

Travelers 6-2 Over Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — The Columbus Astros scored two runs in the first inning and went on to defeat the Arkansas Travelers 6-2 here Wednesday night.

The victory was the Astros' fourth straight. Arkansas has lost four of its last five games and the Travelers' lead over Memphis in the Central Division of the Dixie Association has shrunk to 2½ games. Memphis defeated Asheville 3-2 in 15 innings Wednesday night.

Columbus scored twice in the first when Greg Gross bunted for a base hit and Larry Mansfield slugged his 19th homer of the season. The Astros added a run in the third, another in the fourth and two in the sixth to take a 6-0 lead.

Arkansas' only runs came on Phil Trombino's double in the seventh inning.

In other Dixie Association action Jacksonville bombed Birmingham 10-5, Montgomery edged Shreveport 5-4, Amarillo crushed San Antonio 12-1 and Albuquerque clipped Dallas-Fort Worth 3-1. Savannah at Charlotte was postponed because of rain.

SCOURING THE RECORDS

For the baseball number freaks: The American League team that recorded the highest fielding average for a season was Baltimore, with .9847, playing 163 games in 1964. In the National League, Cincinnati led with .9831, playing 154 games in 1958.

Loyd King Is Signed by Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Loyd King of Virginia Tech was signed to a contract Wednesday by the Memphis Pros of the American Basketball Association.

Terms of the deal were not announced.

The 6-foot-2 King was the Pros' seventh round draft pick in this year's ABA draft. He was also drafted by the NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks.

King spent last week in the Pros' rookie camp and participated Saturday night in a game in Indianapolis between rookies on the Memphis and Indiana clubs.

He led point scoring in the game with 27, hitting 10 of 18 from the field and seven of eight from the free throw line.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

One sure way to tell the difference between a good golf swing and a bad one is to check the left knee. Often a poorer player will stick his left knee straight out toward the ball. His shots don't usually fly straight out toward the target.

The left knee should roll to your right on your backswing and then back to the left on the downswing. If it does, it's a sign that you've shifted your weight properly. If your knee points toward the ball, your weight shift needs work.

Bobby Jones, who may have been the greatest player ever, almost used to sway to his right and then back during his swing. The modern trend is toward a slight lateral shift, for control and consistency. Ideally, you would shift about 65 per cent of your weight to your right on the backswing, then transfer it into the ball on your downswing. (Keeping both knees flexed from start to finish helps.)

By shifting your weight this way, you are able to stay in balance and get more power. If your left knee sticks out, it means you are shifting your weight forward instead of to your right and the effect is like a leg of a table collapsing under a great weight.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Earl Large of El Paso, Tex., the world's eighth-ranked bantamweight, won a close but unanimous 10-round decision over Francisco Cabanig of the Philippines Wednesday night.

Large, a former national Golden Gloves champion from Clovis, N.M., scored frequently with hard combinations against the more experienced Cabanig, the former bantamweight champion of the Philippines.

There were no knockdowns.

Canonero 11 Has New Infection

NEW YORK (AP) — Canonero II, the Venezuelan-owned colt who failed to win racing's Triple Crown, has developed a new infection in his right hind leg, it was disclosed Wednesday.

"The colt has a new problem," said Dr. Michael Gerard, a veterinarian who examined the 3-year-old at the request of Buddy Hirsch, trainer for King Ranch.

"His blood count is up and he definitely has an infection in the hock," Dr. Gerard said, adding "X-rays reveal nothing wrong with his bone structure."

The winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, but fourth to Pass Catcher in last Saturday's Belmont Stakes, previously had a skin rash and an infection in his right hind hoof.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Doctor in the House?"

Suppose you are sitting in a theater when the man next to you slumps to the floor, unconscious. In alarm, you shout: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

And a doctor comes and gives first aid. As the person who summoned the doctor, could you be held legally liable for his fee?

As a general rule, when you request any kind of services to be performed for someone else, you may indeed be responsible for payment. But in the case of a medical emergency, the law usually makes an exception and denies liability. As one court explained:

"Persons commonly call for medical aid for the sick solely out of a spirit of kindness, without any expectation of becoming personally responsible."

Would it matter that the sick person was your friend or relative? Not necessarily. Thus:

A man brought his daughter-in-law to the hospital for some tests while her husband was away on a trip. When surgery became necessary, he told the doctor to go ahead. Did this request, plus his kinship to the patient, make him responsible for the surgical fee?

A court said no, because it was not customary for a man to be responsible for his daughter-in-law's medical expenses. To make him liable, said the court, there would have to be a more specific understanding between him and the doctor.

Still, the understanding need not be as specific as a formal legal contract. In another case, a man was driving his girl friend home from a party when he had an accident. The girl was badly injured, and he rushed her to a hospital.

There he begged the doctor to do everything he could to save her life. He said he "felt responsible" because she had suffered the injury in his car. Later, he tried to avoid liability to the doctor by pointing out that he had not made a specific agreement to pay. But a court held him responsible anyhow. The judge said the comments he did make, under such circumstances, could fairly be interpreted as a promise to foot the bills.

Governor, Academy Agree

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Agreement has been reached between the governor's office and the National River Academy at Helena on the use of a federal grant to finance training programs at the academy.

Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., made the announcement Tuesday after meeting with Eugene Kelley, executive secretary to Gov. Dale Bumpers.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
Blood Flow Causes Heart Murmur

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a 13-year-old girl and last year while I was having a physical examination my doctor said that I had a heart murmur. Since then I have had two chest X rays and electrocardiograms because of severe chest pain which I get from running or playing five games. I also have small lumps which are sometimes painful in the middle of my chest. Could this be a heart murmur? What exactly are heart murmurs? What can my chest pain be caused by? Will I outgrow the pains?

Dear Reader—A heart murmur is an audible vibration or sound, caused by circulation through the heart. If you squeeze a garden hose while water is running through it, you feel the vibrations caused by the water in the hose. The same type of vibrations can be caused by blood flow

Now many young people have murmurs that are perfectly normal and result from the turbulence of normally active young circulations. In other instances the murmur turbulence caused by a defect in heart from birth or following rheumatic heart disease affecting one of the valves. The normal murmurs can be ignored, there is a change or normality in the structure the heart, then an operation is sometimes indicated. Careful studies have been made before an operation advised since not all defects are benefited by surgery.

Your letter tells me you do not know if you have a problem with your heart or not. I think it is important that you know, and know if you need to have your activities, have surgery or, in fact, nothing at all wrong with your heart. It would be a big mistake to allow you to become an invalid if you had nothing wrong with your heart.

Why don't you ask your parents to find out from a doctor if he thinks your murmur is just a normal finding or if he thinks you have a problem?

West Point Defector Arrives in Sweden Asking for Asylum

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) West Point in 1969, finished — A young West Point graduate, 232nd out of a class of 800. He then attended the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss, Tex., Sweden and has asked to stay, and went to Germany in December 1969.

A police official said 1st Lt. John R. Vequist, 24, Pittsburg, Kan., arrived "three days before the end of last month" and contacted police.

He had been assigned to a U.S. Army artillery unit at Kaiserslautern in West Germany. He disappeared on May 20.

"I am not allowed to say if Vequist has sought asylum here," the police official said. "However, he has asked permission for a prolonged stay in Sweden. I'm sending his case to the immigration authorities later today."

The official declined to say where Vequist is staying in Sweden. Vequist was graduated from

Proposal on Photographs Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock proposed Wednesday that civil cases be excluded from a 1969 court rule prohibiting photographs of persons involved in litigation in federal court while in the court building.

Henley said he was willing to allow photographs in most civil cases except in courtrooms and nearby corridors and offices.

The court rule applies in all buildings in the state in which federal court facilities are located. It was adopted because of Supreme Court rulings on prejudicial publicity.

Henley said he would change the rule Monday on a trial basis for civil cases filed at Little Rock if the other federal judges in the state did not object. He said that "if all goes well" he would propose making the change permanent and statewide Sept. 1.

Henley said in a letter to the other judges he thought the rule "unnecessarily restricts the news media with no substantial benefit to litigants in civil cases."

Henley found Joe Thompson, a news cameraman for Little Rock television station KATV, in contempt of court last February for violating the rule. Thompson was fined $50.

Wants Felony Law Included

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Bobby Steel said Wednesday he would ask Asst. Atty. Gen. Roger Glasgow to include a felony assault law in the attorney general's office plans to revise Arkansas' criminal code.

Steel attacked the state's assault laws after a jury found two brothers guilty in the beating of a deputy prosecuting attorney. The jury recommended the penalty be a $200 fine and court costs.

The judge said he believed it was wrong that a person could beat him to a "pulp" and pay only a $200 fine while a person convicted of stealing three chickens would be subject to a prison term.

Limit on Draft Is Approved

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved the first congressional limit on draft calls in 30 years—but put it safely above the number likely to be inducted.

The 67-11 vote Wednesday set the ceiling for the year starting July 1 at 130,000 men with the call up for fiscal 1973 limited to 140,000.

The Pentagon has estimated the draft for the next fiscal year at 114,000.

The action Wednesday, along with approval of two amendments dealing with drug addiction in the military cleared the way for today's start of a weeks debate on U.S. Indochina policy.

A vote is scheduled next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for U.S. operations in Indochina by Dec. 31.

Indications are it will lose by a margin similar to last year's 55-39 vote.

The Senate Armed Services Committee had voted to place a 150,000 annual ceiling on draft calls over the next two years but allowing the President to exceed the number by declaring "urgent national security reasons" required it.

But Armed Services Chairman John C. Stennis, who sponsored the provision in the committee, agreed Wednesday to reduce the numbers and take out the escape clause, saying changed conditions have made it unnecessary.

After the ceilings were set the Senate approved 78 to 4 an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to require congressional authorization for inductions over the ceiling.

The Senate then rejected 54 to 25 a proposal by Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, to lower draft calls to 100,000 next year and 60,000 the following year.

The debate on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment comes at the end of a week of lobbying on its behalf by lawyers, businessmen, labor leaders, church officials and others.

The McGovern-Hatfield forces also have launched a series of radio commercials designed to generate mail from constituents of doubtful senators.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, a McGovern-Hatfield supporter, said last week he doubts the lobbying and other pressure will be much help since everyone's mind is already made up on the issue.

Clete Boyer Fined on Bet Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced today he is fining former Atlanta player Clete Boyer $1,000 for illegally betting on college and professional football games in 1968 and 1969.

Kuhn also announced that he is inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the release of Boyer by the Atlanta club recently after a dispute with Braves' General Manager Paul Richards.

Kuhn said the fining of Boyer, which would be payable upon Boyer's signing with another club in professional baseball, "resulted from an investigation of several months duration."

Kuhn said he had met with Boyer twice to discuss the situation, on June 7 and early today.

Arkansas Youth Killed in Mo.

FAIRDEALING, Mo. (AP) — An Arkansas youth, Elvert Carroll, 13, of Maynard (Randolph County) was killed Wednesday in a two-car crash on U.S. 160 about two miles west of here.

Injured in the accident were Tommy Carroll, 52, of Maynard; Mary Carroll, 41, of Maynard and Glen Hickman, 36, of Terrington, Wyo.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said the accident occurred when Hickman's eastbound car attempted to pass a truck and veered into the path of the Carroll auto.

Underworld Security Raid 'Staggering'

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said today spiraling thefts of securities by organized crime "has had a profound effect on this nation's financial community."

"If continued it could impair the public's confidence in securities as a means of investment and of transacting business," said Mitchell, a former Wall Street lawyer.

He testified before the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Mitchell also said in his prepared testimony counterfeiting of government securities "could seriously threaten legitimate transactions in today's financial market."

But, he added, the underworld is not limiting itself to making bogus government securities.

"Just 11 days ago, federal agents in Philadelphia arrested a person in possession of 82 counterfeit IBM common stock certificates worth $2.8 million," he said.

Unrecovered losses through securities thefts totaled nearly $400 million in 1969 and 1970, he said, and "as staggering as these reported thefts may seem, they unfortunately portray only part of the picture."

Citing a 146 per cent increase in securities trading in the past seven years, Mitchell said "It is not difficult to understand why the securities industry has become attractive to the organized criminal."

A fertile area for securities thieves has been airport mail facilities, Mitchell said, even though security has been increased in recent months.

"Securities in excess of $70 million face value were stolen from registered mail pouches in the custody of airlines at Kennedy International Airport between late October 1967 and July 1970," he noted.

"In one case jointly investigated by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Postal Service, securities were fraudulently used to gain a majority of shares of a large life insurance company," he said.

"Once these individuals had obtained control of the company, they proceeded to convert large amounts of its assets to their personal use."

Armored Cars' Cost Marked Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation is hiking the cost of the four armored limousines that carry FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover around Washington, New York and Los Angeles.

In 1970, the FBI had to pay $27,655 for an armored limousine, Hoover told the House Appropriations Committee in testimony released today.

"In recent years we have experienced an increase in cost and the principal reason for this has been the escalating cost of armoring the cars," Hoover said.

To maintain the four-vehicle fleet—two in Washington and one each in New York and Los Angeles—the FBI buys a new one each year and sells one of the old ones, Hoover said.

The topic of the armored vehicles was raised in the March 17 hearing by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., who noted "there has been some comment in the press" about them. It prompted this exchange between Sikes, Hoover and Clyde Tolson, Hoover's assistant:

Hoover: "The armored vehicles are used for protective purposes."

Tolson: "Mr. Congressman, during the calendar year 1970, Mr. Hoover received 26 threats on his life and so far this year, he has received another 16 threats. It is necessary for security reasons for Mr. Hoover to be transported in these vehicles."

Hoover: "The attorney general and I have used the armored vehicles when we were required to be in New York City and Los Angeles. The vehicles are available as the needs arise for investigative purposes."

Hoover testified in behalf of an FBI budget request of about $333 million for fiscal 1972.

Military Told to Treat Addicts

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told the military to identify and treat drug addicts in uniform, not punish them.

Without a dissenting vote, the Senate Wednesday amended the draft-extension bill to require treatment and rehabilitation centers and to encourage servicemen to use them without fear of punishment.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, sponsor of the proposal, charged the military has attempted to sweep the problem under the rug by dishonorably discharging 11,000 of 16,000 identified addicts.

He said the widespread use of hard drugs in Vietnam—particularly heroin—requires rehabilitation.

Heroin usage is so commonplace in Vietnam, he added, that "an inductee sent to Vietnam runs more risk of becoming a casualty of heroin than of the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese."

"It is no longer a private concern of the individual services but a problem of the entire nation that, if not controlled, will cause decades of irreparable damage to our civilian society," he said.

Another draft bill amendment approved Wednesday calls for the President to seek new methods of controlling international traffic in heroin and other hard drugs.

The Senate acted shortly after Roger T. Kelley, assistant secretary of defense, testified "we don't know how many military members in Vietnam use heroin and other hard drugs."

Three Congressmen who went recently to Vietnam said, however, their investigation disclosed that about 60,000 U.S. troops there use hard drugs.

Hughes cited a recent provost marshal's report estimating 30,000 to 40,000 men in Vietnam use hard drugs.

Some military commands recently offered amnesty to drug addicts who turned themselves in for treatment.

Hughes said "crippling qualifications" largely neutralized the amnesty program, however.

Accusing military leaders of ignoring drug use warning signs, Hughes pointed to a Defense Department document issued last summer which he said "confidently" proclaimed a low incidence of drug abuse.

"Yet only two months before ... a young major was conducting a survey at Cam Rahn Bay which showed that 17.4 percent of the troops then leaving Vietnam admitted having used opium," the senator said. "Furthermore, most of these said they had picked up the habit while in Vietnam."

Ways & Means Committee Unmoved

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee's door still seems firmly shut on President Nixon's revenue-sharing plan—and even on a variation presented by a leading Democrat.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a principal aspirant to the Democratic presidential nomination, did his best with the committee Wednesday.

He got a friendly reception, praise for his changes from the Nixon plan, but no indication he had convinced the panel.

The questioning did indicate, however, members are disposed to talk about alternative ways to help the states, and especially the cities, out of financial difficulties.

The administration's $5-billion revenue-sharing bill is up against some stark arithmetical figures in the committee that controls its fate.

Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10. The ranking Republican, John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, opposes the administration plan as firmly as does the Democratic chairman, Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas. At least two other Republicans are doubtful.

Even if the administration held all but Byrnes, it would still have to find four Democratic votes for a majority.

White House strategists thought they had a chance among Democrats from big

Hot Pants Out for Employees

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Much as he hates to do it, police homicide commander Norman Jacobsmeyer says he will send home any female employee wearing hot pants.

Jacobsmeyer said female employees in his division look fine wearing the mod style, and his detectives agree. But he outlawed hot pants with this memo to the women:

"You must remember that we have from time to time prisoners talking in the office, as well as members of the grand jury and other visitors from outside the department who might frown on such attire."

Walters Top Tax Collector

By GREGG HARRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, one of the South's most influential Republicans, says fellow South Carolinian Johnnie McK. Walters, will be named the nation's top tax collector.

Walters, now head of the Justice Department's tax division, will replace Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower, who has been waiting since January for his replacement, Thurmond said Wednesday.

Walters said later in an interview he wouldn't be surprised by the nomination. "I think it's expected," he said. "I think it's likely to occur," adding that "until the President gives the word, nobody can say for sure."

Walters, 51 and a lifelong Republican, is from Greenville, S.C. He assumed the Justice Department post in January 1969 when President Nixon took office.

Walters was a Greenville attorney specializing in tax cases, both corporate and individual, and also served as finance chairman of the Greenville County Republican organization.

"I'm not a switcher. I've always been a Republican," he said, when reminded that other prominent South Carolina Republicans, including Thurmond, once were Democrats.

Thrower, named to the post in March 1969, submitted his resignation to Nixon last January. He said then it was "timely and appropriate for me to submit my resignation with the expectation of returning to the practice of law in Atlanta."

Nixon asked Thrower to postpone his departure "in order to take maximum advantage of your experience in arranging for an orderly transfer of responsibilities."

Thrower and Nixon came under heavy criticism from Thurmond last July after the IRS ruled private schools in the South would lose their tax-exempt status if Negroes were not admitted. Thurmond had said the move probably would contribute to a 1972 Nixon defeat in the South.

Later, tax-exempt status was granted some schools after they publicly declared the academies were open the children of all races.

Asked about his own feelings on that controversy, Walters said he would make no comment until he faces Senate confirmation.

Walters said he knows of nothing on his record that would create Senate opposition to him, but added with a slight chuckle, "Well, I'm from South Carolina. Some people seem to think" that is reason enough.

cities caught between deteriorating local tax bases and demands for more services.

Muskie's variation on the revenue-sharing theme would seem to hold particular appeal for them, because it would nearly double the amount of shared revenue going to the 25 biggest cities.

But while the questioning indicated they like that part of Muskie's plan which would use need factors, it isn't enough to make the basic idea of revenue sharing palatable.

James A. Burke, whose district includes part of Boston and its suburbs, told Muskie he had zeroed in on a major weakness in the Nixon proposal.

But Burke went on to denounce revenue sharing as "the cleverest piece of political gimmickry ever presented."

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! (Hope Star) Dear Helen:

Recently at Kent State University a very sad and very important anniversary was observed. Sad because of the consequences—the four dead students. Important because it spotlighted one of the many crises our country faces today.

I am in a position few people think about. I am attending college, and I am also a National Guardsman.

Most people now see the National Guard as a group of hard-core, right-wing killers (or at the least, blind followers of commands from above). Not so. I've seen them and I know them. We're young; the average age is equal to or slightly greater than that of the Regular Army. And, frankly, we're all here for the same reason: the fear of Vietnam.

What is a National Guardsman?

He can be: ...A guy who attended the Auto Show with you to check out the cars—and girls.

...A friend with a half-built house, a wife and two small daughters.

...Your boy friend, who has to go away one weekend a month, even during the summer.

...Your son, who just returned from four months' active duty, only to learn he's on Yellow Alert for riot duty because of a run-off election.

...A 20-year-old sergeant who is going to be in charge of ten others just like himself.

...The kid with short hair at school. You always did wonder why he had no sideburns.

...The driver who stops to help a stranded motorist in the middle of a snowstorm.

...Your neighbor's son, who just returned from his April drill and told you he's been warned about a "Newark" for this summer (already?).

...[NOTE FROM HELEN: Or the fellows who take a busload of under-privileged children on an overnight trip to Disneyland—with all the trimmings; or spend a mountain weekend with disabled veterans, showing them how to fish, or ski, or swim again. These and other non-combatant assignments are part of the National Guard assistance program that seldom rates much publicity.]

He is:

...An individual. A human being. He breathes and eats and talks just like you. But once a month, and for two weeks in the summer, he has to put on his uniform and play soldier.

...Younger than you think.

...You? Me!

What happened at Kent State was indeed a tragedy. The National Guard was wrong. Nothing that those students did necessitated the firing of weapons. May it never happen again!

But I hope the nation will not judge us all because of the blatant action of a few.—JAMES S.

Inmates Still At Large

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The search continued today for three inmates who escaped Monday night from Cummins Prison Farm.

Prison officials said Donald E. Priest, 21, of Blytheville; Gary G. Biggers, 19, of Fort Smith and Larry Brown, 20, of Trumann escaped while on a work detail.

N. Vietnam Plays Politics With POWs

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce charged today that the Vietnamese Communists are playing politics with American prisoners of war and called this reprehensible.

The head of the American delegation to the Vietnam peace talks also called on the Communists to confirm and clarify recently published statements concerning the prisoners and other issues holding up settlement of the war. His request was ignored.

Bruce apparently was referring in part to a suggestion by former defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford that if the United States promises to withdraw its troops from Indochina by Dec. 31 the American prisoners would be released in 30 days.

Clifford said he came to this belief on the basis of conversations with a number of unidentified people.

Bruce said the attitude toward the prisoners adds "to the doubt and suffering of these helpless men and their families. Your attempt to trade on this doubt and suffering for political purposes is reprehensible."

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Viet Cong delegation, repeated the hard Communist stand on U.S. troop withdrawals and freeing prisoners, apparently knocking out the indications of any softening of the Viet Cong-North Vietnamese position.

"Let the American government put forth a reasonable interval for the rapid withdrawal from South Vietnam of all troops from the United States and other foreign countries in the American camp," she said.

"We are in agreement to immediately examine this interval with the other parties, in order that we can quickly discuss all the other questions, including that of the liberation of all the captured military men, as soon as an accord is reached on this interval."

Xuan Thuy, head of the North Vietnamese delegation, also showed no sign of a changing stand. He complained that President Nixon refuses to set a troop withdrawal deadline "proving that he intends to continue the war."

Critical of Private Schools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Arkansas Education Association said Wednesday that private schools could reduce a student's education experience.

The board, in a position statement, expressed concern about a number of private schools that have been formed or proposed for organization in the state.

A number of private schools have been proposed since the recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions on integration and busing.

The AEA board said, "children are poorly equipped to live in the society of tomorrow when they are denied the opportunity to learn about themselves and others through association with those who are different from themselves."

The AEA board also said it was "unethical" for public school teachers to accept positions in private academies when they are aware that an educationally sound program and curriculum will not be offered.

Camden Firm Gets Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force has awarded a $5,418,873 contract to Pace Corp. of East Camden, Ark., to pack and assemble air munition kits, it was announced Wednesday.
